CURATED BY GUNWERKS · HUNTING WITH JOHN X SAFARIS

A NOTE FROM AARON DAVIDSON

WHY I KEEP GOING BACK

I have been to John X more times than I can count — almost every year for almost two decades. Over those trips the crew has become close to me, the kind of people you look forward to seeing again, year after year. The hunting is world-class, but it is the friendships that bring me back.

My goal is simple: to get every one of our customers to experience the John X experience for themselves. That is exactly why it earned a place on the Reserve.

THE RESERVE™

Designed for hunters who know the difference.

The Reserve is our short list of full-service, premium hunts — built around the outfitters, locations, and experiences we trust with our own time.

Each hunt is hand-selected, personally scouted, and backed by the same precision and support that defines Gunwerks. Most are hosted by our team, so from travel to trigger pull, you're covered by people who live this at the highest level.

THE EXPERIENCE

SOUTH AFRICAN SAFARI

SOUTH AFRICA, AS FEW HAVE DONE IT

We split the safari between two of John X Safaris' camps in the Eastern Cape — Bankfontein in the Great Karoo, and Woodlands in the south. Two kinds of country. Two sets of species. One unbroken week in the field.

This is spot-and-stalk hunting as it was meant to be done — open plains, thick brush, rocky ridgelines — in pursuit of kudu, sable, impala, bushbuck, and wildebeest. Behind your own Gunwerks rifle, or one of ours.

John X Safaris has run this ground for more than forty years. Two million acres. More than forty species. The logistics are handled — permits, transfers, the route in and the route home. You arrive, and you hunt.

A rustic stone building with a corrugated metal roof, a fire pit with a fire, and outdoor seating. The building features a large arched wooden door, a window with a bull's head mounted above it, and several smaller windows. The courtyard is paved with large, irregular stones and contains several folding chairs arranged around a fire pit. The scene is set during the day, with palm trees and other vegetation in the background.

SOUTH AFRICAN WINE.

Imagine if your most trusted circle of hunting buddies had the opportunity to travel the globe hunting the most exotic regions for the coolest and most unique trophy animals — and were excited to share those connections to set you up on a hunt that checks all your boxes and blows your mind. What you are envisioning is the Reserve. With its help I've already experienced the safari of a lifetime in South Africa, and I'm booked for an ibex/ Marco Polo sheep combo in Turkey and Tajikistan I never would have had access to otherwise. The Reserve is a game changer for hunters that crave once-in-a-lifetime adventures.
